Font Software End User Licence Agreement

Version 1.0, 27 October 2026

This agreement applies to every font sold through fontkos.com, except fonts downloaded for free, which are covered by the Fontkos Free Font Licence (see fontkos.com/legal/free-licence). By buying, downloading, installing or using the Font Software you agree to it. If you do not agree, do not use the Font Software.

1. Parties

1.1 The licensor is Vissor UG (haftungsbeschränkt), trading as Fontkos ("the Foundry"). Full company details are at vissor.de.

1.2 The licensee is the person or organisation named on the licence certificate ("you"). If you buy on behalf of an organisation, you confirm that you may bind it to this agreement.

2. Definitions

2.1 Font Software: the font files in any format (for example OTF, TTF, WOFF, WOFF2), including their outlines, metrics, kerning and code, and every copy, update and derivative of them.

2.2 User: one natural person who uses the Font Software on any number of their own devices.

2.3 Licence Certificate: the document issued with your order that states the licensee, the fonts, the licence types and their size.

2.4 Client: a third party for whom you create work.

3. Grant

3.1 The Foundry grants you a non-exclusive, non-transferable, worldwide licence to use the Font Software in the ways and to the extent stated on your Licence Certificate and in this agreement. All rights not expressly granted remain with the Foundry.

3.2 The licence starts when your payment is received and lasts without time limit, unless it ends under section 13.

3.3 Each licence type below is separate. Using the Font Software in a way not covered by a licence you hold requires an additional licence.

4. Desktop licence

4.1 You may install the Font Software on computers used by the number of Users stated on your Licence Certificate.

4.2 You may use it to create static output: printed matter, images, video, signage, packaging, merchandise, presentations and documents.

4.3 You may embed the Font Software in PDF files in a way that does not allow the fonts to be extracted or edited, so the document can be viewed and printed.

4.4 You may use the Font Software to create logos and wordmarks, change the letterforms within such a logo, and register the logo as a trademark. You may not register the Font Software itself, or a font derived from it, as a trademark or design.

5. Web licence

5.1 You may self-host the web font files (WOFF or WOFF2) on the websites stated on your Licence Certificate and display them through CSS @font-face, up to the number of monthly page views stated there.

5.2 The web font files must be served from servers you control or a content delivery network acting for you, and you must take reasonable measures to prevent other websites from linking to them.

5.3 If your page views exceed the licensed amount, you must upgrade the licence.

5.4 The web licence does not allow downloading the fonts to visitors in installable form, or use in tools that let visitors create their own output with the fonts (for example online editors, template builders, print on demand services). Such use requires a separate agreement.

6. App licence

6.1 You may embed the Font Software in the number of applications stated on your Licence Certificate (mobile, desktop or web applications, games, e-books).

6.2 The Font Software must be embedded so that end users cannot extract it or use it outside the application.

7. Broadcast and large brand use

Use in television, film, streaming broadcasts, or as a brand typeface across an organisation larger than the tiers offered on the website requires a separate written agreement.

8. Clients and service providers

8.1 You may give the Font Software to a printer, agency or other service provider only for the purpose of producing your work, and only if they delete it when the work is done.

8.2 If you create work for a Client, the Client needs its own licence to use the Font Software itself, for example to edit the work, use the fonts on its website or in its app. You may buy that licence in the Client's name.

9. Restrictions

You may not:

9.1 copy the Font Software except for installation under this agreement and one backup copy;

9.2 sell, rent, lend, sublicense, share or otherwise give the Font Software to anyone not covered by your licence, including uploading it to file sharing services, public repositories or font collections;

9.3 modify, convert, rename, merge or create derivative fonts from the Font Software, except converting formats for your own licensed use and changing letterforms inside a logo under section 4.4;

9.4 decompile, reverse engineer or remove copyright notices, licence information or embedded identification data from the Font Software;

9.5 use the Font Software to train machine learning models, or to generate new fonts.

10. Ownership

The Font Software is protected by copyright and other laws. It remains the property of the Foundry. You acquire only the rights of use set out in this agreement.

11. Updates and upgrades

11.1 Updates of a font you have licensed are provided free of charge through your account for as long as the Foundry offers them. They are covered by the licence you already hold.

11.2 To increase the number of Users, page views or applications, or to add a licence type, you buy an upgrade through your account.

12. Warranty and liability

12.1 The Foundry warrants that the Font Software has the features described on the website at the time of purchase. Statutory warranty rights apply.

12.2 The Foundry is liable without limitation for intent and gross negligence, for injury to life, body or health, and under the German Product Liability Act.

12.3 For slight negligence, the Foundry is liable only for breach of an essential contractual obligation (one whose fulfilment makes proper performance of the contract possible and on which you may regularly rely), and limited to the damage typically foreseeable when the contract was made.

12.4 Any further liability is excluded.

13. Termination

13.1 Your licence ends automatically if you breach this agreement. On termination you must delete all copies of the Font Software. Work created lawfully before the breach may continue to be used.

13.2 If an order is refunded, the licence for it ends.

14. Governing law and jurisdiction

14.1 German law applies, excluding the UN Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods. If you are a consumer, this choice of law does not take away the protection of mandatory consumer law of the country where you live.

14.2 If you are a merchant, a legal entity under public law or have no general place of jurisdiction in Germany, the place of jurisdiction is the Foundry's registered seat.

15. Final provisions

15.1 If a provision of this agreement is invalid, the rest remains valid.

15.2 This agreement, the Licence Certificate and the terms of sale form the entire agreement on the licence. The version accepted with your order applies to that order.

15.3 If this agreement exists in several languages, the English version prevails, unless mandatory law requires otherwise.
