Trial Font Licence

Version 1.0, 27 October 2026

The trial fonts are provided by Vissor UG (haftungsbeschränkt), trading as Fontkos ("the Foundry"), free of charge so you can test them before buying. They are named "Trial" and contain a limited character set.

You may

- install the trial fonts on your own computers
- use them to test, sketch, make internal mockups and present design proposals to clients

You may not

- use them in any final, published or paid work: print runs, products, packaging, websites, apps, videos, social posts, logos or trademark applications
- share, upload or redistribute them
- modify them or remove their names or licence information
- use them to train machine learning models or generate new fonts

Moving to a full licence

When the work goes live, buy the licence that fits it on the Foundry's website and replace the trial fonts with the licensed ones.

Everything else

The trial fonts are provided as they are. The Foundry is liable only for intent and gross negligence. German law applies. The Foundry may end this trial licence at any time; you then delete the trial fonts.
